

CALL FOR SOLIDARITY FOR STREET VENDORS IN LIMA, PERU

Street vendors in Peru are being persecuted

We have not received any pronouncements about what is currently happening with the workers of the popular street trade in the surroundings of Lima - Peru, why, no one sympathises with the misfortune of those citizens who are being brutally abused, homeless and have their goods confiscated (theft), just for the "crime" of working as do all human beings to survive; it is difficult and banned from working in Peru why states are silent in defence of labour and social rights of these workers?. The 85% of this sector of workers in Peru are women, abandoned mothers, single mothers, elderly women and differently abled (disabled).

FEDEVAL General Secretary, Manuel Sulca asks why organisations - national and international are silent? "We need to reject this inhumane and repressive attitude of the local government, before worrying about the campaigns of candidates for Mayor of metropolitan Lima."

Friends,

From Peru, we reiterate our plea to all national and international organisations with which we are permanently linked: reject and repudiate those who are committing these abuses and inhumane mistreatment modest workers of small street vendors in Peru!

Kindly we send our thanks beforehand and our institutional recognition!
